The C&C retail giants have grown substantially in recent years. Many professionals provide almost exclusively in these shops that offer all references they need.

This is why, from the 2000s, Solia has proposed a selection of products in packaging adapted to this mode of sale.

Today, we offer nearly 600 references for the C&C market.

RETAIL RANGE AVAILABLE

Every day we seek to create new product lines suited to the needs of everyone.

Our Research & Development team works tirelessly to provide professionals in the catering trade with original, design, practical and ecological products.

With our experience, we recently decided to develop a range of products for end consumers.

We believe in a new way of consuming.

This conviction takes account of environmental and social aspects that are related to our new challenges: the reconciliation of men and sustainable development.

This product line is an invitation to sharing and conviviality : it has to be simple, intuitive, friendly and accessible to all.
